Crossroads – Turn left for a world of pain, disease, excited misery and death or turn right to "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness"

The meeting in Davos is an affront to humanity. The attendees are ego-maniacs with as much right as bar flies to pontificate on the 8 billion people on the planet they do not account to or represent. The WEF has no track record of success in improving living standards for anyone.

Similarly, the WHO has been diverted from the health of people in developing nations and, instead, seeks to compound the health problems of people in developed countries.

Before ploughing on, perhaps someone can answer this:

- Despite all the revelations about the adverse events from poor manufacturing quality controls and unaccounted side effects everywhere else in the body from the C19 mRNA and viral vector injections – that are not directly related to the purpose of the injections – why do all doctors STILL recommend adherence to "vaccine" schedules that may suffer from the same unrelated to the purpose of the "vaccine" adverse events and side effects?

- Do they contend that the injections are NOT responsible for the dramatic increases in autism, (5% in children in Florida), ADHD, Alzheimer's, heart disease and diabetes over the last few decades? Have they seen studies that FULLY correlate each of these conditions to diet, drugs, alcohol and a lack of exercise and not because of, for example, the 72 vaccines on the childhood vaccine schedule?

- Perhaps there are studies that show a comparison of the number needed to vaccinate to prevent a single case of, say, 'flu, compared to the number of adverse events caused? For example do they have access to studies that show that if you inject 1 million kids to prevent 10,000 'flu cases, you do not cause 50,000 adverse events in kids that are life altering (severe)? Just thinking out loud. We know that big pharma conducts fraudulent or under-powered clinical trials – which rather begs the question "How many "vaccines" have been fraudulently approved?".

Ok, back to the crossroads – here's the left fork.

There is a pervasive false logic permeating all levels of the United Nations. By now, a United Nations "peace keeping force" should be in Ukraine, policing de-militarized zones. In the same way, the UN should be on the Syrian borders with Israel and Turkey. It isn't, because the US forbids it as it wants to pursue US political objectives.

Here is a link to an article that excoriates the logic of the switch to electric vehicles. The same tenets could be applied to switching from hydrocarbon fuels for heating homes, offices and plants or to plans to power boats, ships and planes, or in agriculture, health and any sector. It exposes the sort of underlying "logic and intelligence fails" that permeate ALL thinking coming out of that corrupt (UN) body of miscreants and embraced by the Federal government and assorted State, City and Local Governments.

The People Promising Us 'Net Zero' Are Clueless About Energy Storage - Climate Change Dispatch

Completely impractical and about as deep as a puddle as far as in-depth appreciation of real issues is concerned.

Using these ignorant policy approaches leads to an expensive world, misusing resources to condemn 340 million US residents (and 8 billion people globally) to increasing levels of hunger, disease and poverty – the inevitable result of all socialist policies. You just need to look at the world's major western cities to see the accelerating decline in living conditions and standards as a result of "woke" policies.

The goal of the WEF – and latterly the WHO – is to forcefully inject developed nations with toxins and devices whilst making their populations pay for these expensive implants and also pay far higher prices to meet the most basic for food and energy needs.

If world "health bodies" had an ounce of altruism, they would instead be acting to create "healthy bodies" by correcting wasteful imbalances in food supply across the world and would be doubling and redoubling efforts to meet the hygiene needs of the world's sick. No money in that of course.

In other words, at the global level, these "bodies" want to make healthier people sicker whilst ignoring the existing billion or so that are sick and hungry.

Can you imagine these "bodies" rolling up to someone suffering from malaria or pneumonia or AIDS and saying "you need to take this injection that might make you sicker or kill you"?

That is the left fork at the cross roads.

It is epitomized by the "collateral damage" that nobody anywhere talks about.

The global "woke, "green", movement has been utterly silent whilst millions of trees, tons of metals and millions of barrels of oil have been used to make the packages that contain the masks, test kits, wet wipes, syringes, personal protective gowns, gloves and caps, cleaning fluids and so forth.

I attempted to quantify the environmental impact of C19 measures here

An Inconvenient Truth - by Peter Halligan (substack.com)

But here is an updated summary/ball-park estimate:

- 6 billion people (assuming 2 billion out of 8 billion total did not bother) using two masks a week – call it 100 masks a year each for three years = 1.8 million masks

- Call it the same number of EXTRA wet-wipes

- There have been 6.8 billion tests conducted (including China)

- There have been 13.2 billion injections administered globally (including China)

- Pick your own number for extra cleaning fluids – billions of gallons, not to mention the paint for useless circles in the ground, plastic screens to isolate kids in classrooms and "protect" cashiers in shops

Those are the resources that have been used and wasted on useless tests, masks, injections, EXTRA wet wipes, cleaning fluids etc.

This is before any consideration of additional medical resources for treatments of the vaxx injured and those psychologically damaged by imposition of the rules of "The Borg".

The global "woke", "green" lobby is also silent on the disposal of all of these used tests, masks, needles and EXTRA wet wipes. Where has all the waste gone? Landfills? Rivers? Probably in the oceans and seas.

This creation of toxic waste and pollution of the environment is a "by product" of the switch to "the global pandemic responses". The economic damage from switching the output of entire countries to the pharma sector from the healthy sectors is staggering. Probably one eighth of the entire economic output of developed nations has been switched from healthy activity to the increasing creation of unhealthy activity.

Now, what lies in the other direction. The right fork in the road.

It should go without saying that any and all policies espoused by the WEF and its psychopharmacrats in the UNUNIPCC/WHO should be ignored as garbage by all world leaders.

Quite simply, there is an obvious need to replace the entire leadership of the United Nations and all its subsidiaries and to employ new leadership that enacts a strategy that satisfies its original purpose.

That purpose is, eliminating world hunger, poverty and disease (not C19) whilst building infrastructure in the developing world that provides a hand up to self-sufficiency in countries at much higher living standards.

Say what you will, China lifted almost a billion people out of poverty in the last 20-30 years using fiat money. China borrowed its ways into prosperity – with some western money, but mostly its own fiat. Now it faces the challenge of paying the debt back, or at least servicing the interest bill, while the economy grows faster than inflation.

Let's take a look at the corruption that passes for "overseas aid" these days. How much should flowing into countries from the wealthy nations over the decades from pumping literally hundreds of billions of dollars into developing countries?

The EU, US and UK on their own spend 125 billion dollars every year on "overseas aid", charities easily match that amount and organisations like the World Bank and the European Bank for Reconstruction and Development have made hundreds of billions of dollars of loans and "investments".

This is not money that belongs to these governments. It is tax payer money that is needed at home. No political party campaigns on this largesse. Indeed, in the last decade, governments (taxpayers) have spent more than the amount they spend on overseas aid, on supporting tens of millions of illegal economic immigrants. These migrants impoverish their own countries by depriving their own countries of their talents whilst burdening the host countries with their welfare needs.

Developing nations have unsatisfied basic needs for anti-biotics, clean water, food, mosquito-nets, irrigation and transport infrastructure, schools, hospitals and so on and so forth. There have been successful deployments of resources that meet these needs, but on the whole the involvement of overseas aid agencies, the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation and the UNUNICEF/WHO has resulted in billions upon billions of dollars worth of wasted resources.

Not smart (not safe) and not effective.

Here is the very much smaller size of the problem of hunger. It would take less than 5% of the overseas aid budgets of the EU, US and UK (around $6 billion a year out of 125 billion dollars) to end starvation, with a little leadership, brains and logistic support to prevent 9 million annual deaths from starvation. (Remember the challenge to Elon Musk by the UN to end world hunger? That was the figure mentioned).

In world of wealth, 9 million people die every year from hunger, WFP Chief tells Food System Summit | World Food Programme

That WFP organisation gets around 20 billion bucks out its 22-billion-dollar budget from Governments. The rest from private donations.

You can apply the same logic to solve 2.5 million annual deaths from pneumonia. A curative antibiotic pill costs a dollar.

Pneumonia causes 2.5 million deaths around the world each year (clinicbarcelona.org)

Pneumonia and starvation kill 11.5 million people every year and have done for years. Deaths with C19 "present" have average 2.2 million a year for the 3 years of the "Emergency".

That is the impact of corrupted WHO and UN agencies, just from these two avoidable killers.

Developing infrastructure and lifting living standards would reduce the incentive to migrate illegally. Of course, the illegal economic migrants are NOT entirely to blame. They are acting rationally to kiss the hand that feeds them. LEGAL migration is to be applauded as it part and parcel of "freedom of movement".

Right fork = reduced disease, poverty and misery

Seems like an obvious choice.

Vote wisely.

Onwards!

Obviously Trump' s fault, lol! I just challenged the fricking dyed-hair camel impersonating Trump as Black Bra, a real character, a rockstar in Morocco. LOL No, I am not the guy reigning the camel in one of the pictures, it is my bodyguard.

Peter, your take on the renewables revolution is so obviously flawed that I had a good laugh, and another one when I checked the "climate change dispatch" article you link to.
It is always striking how utterly detached and clumsy the average critique of renewable energy has become. What would be so bad about you putting your need for projecting your negative feelings aside and start delving into facts the factual way, without an already made-up mind? I encourage you to start doing so.
